I HAVE, WHO HAS is a series of books that provide interactive group activities. The activities consist of game cards that students read and interactively answer. Each card game consists of 40 cards. The game starts when a student reads the first card. The student who has the card with the answer reads his or her card. The game continues in this manner until the last card is read. The last card's question "loops" back to the first card.

Introduction

This book provides a fun, interactive way for students to practice various language arts skills. This resource includes over 35 card games that will improve students' listening skills and teach standards-based skills and strategies. The skills covered include:
